DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This communication is in response to the amendment filed March 23, 2005. In the amendment, no claims have been canceled or added, and no new claims were added. Claims 6-12, 35-39 are pending in the application.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed March 23, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Elliot (U.S. Patent No. 6,754,181) as set forth in the last office action mailed on January 4, 2005.

Response to Arguments

Art Unit: 3623

5. Applicants asserted that Elliot fails to disclose every element of claim 6. Applicants further supported their assertion by arguing that Elliot fails receiving an event, categorizing the received event; identifying a situation that matches the categorized event. In response, the examiner respectfully disagrees with applicants' arguments Elliot does in fact teach all the limitations argued by applicants. In fact, Elliot teaches receiving the event, and classifying the event and identifying a situation that matches the received (i.e., a classifier which classifies the event and comparing/matching the user's input information and with the received event information). Note col. 111 line 1 through col. 113 line 29 of Elliot.

Applicants further asserted that Kiss fails to disclose every claim element. Applicants further supported their assertion by arguing that kiss fails to disclose program instructions for categorizing the received and for identifying a situation that matches the categorized event. Again, the examiner respectfully disagrees with applicants' arguments because Kiss does teach the meta agent receiving all responses and storing the responses, organizing/categorizing the problem as set of tasks to be performed, and match any existing entry based on a user input. Note col. 2, line 54-55, col. 9 line 15 and col. 2, lines 18-19 of Kiss.
